Dear Oliver,

A quick word about your blue bike, because you should hear it from me.

Some things travel separately and arrive after Christmas. It is finished — I checked it myself — and it is coming by a different route, because I would not send it unfinished and I would not squash it into the sleigh once it was.

So Christmas morning goes ahead exactly as planned, and your blue bike follows soon. I do not name days. I have found it wiser not to.

With love,

Santa
